Sarah と Hana は、帽子のカタログを見ながら話をしています。

Sarah: You say you want to buy a hat, don't you? Here is a catalog of chapeau à la carte*.

Hana: Oh, thanks. That's kind of you. Let me see it.

Sarah: Is there anything you're interested in?

Hana: Oh, yes. There're many fashionable ones!

Sarah: Then, which one are you interested in?

Hana: This hat named Mannish type looks nice. And I can choose a color I like because there is a variety* of colors.

Sarah: Sounds nice. What color would you like to buy?

Hana: I'd like to buy one in indigo* or light brown.

Sarah: I see. Then let's decide this one. It will really suit you.

Hana: Thank you. I'm glad to hear that. But this is expensive.

Sarah: OK. How much can you spend on a hat this time?

Hana: Well..., I can spend only ¥4,000.

Sarah: Then, why don't you get (A) type? The price is all right for you and you can choose the color.

Hana: You're right. I'll buy one you recommend*. How about you, Sarah?

Sarah: I like a hat going well with a pair of Jeans. Like you I like the Mannish type, but my favorite color isn't there. So I'll buy a Casual type hat because my color is only on the list for that one.

Hana: I see. I know your favorite color is (B).

Sarah: That's right. You remember it.

Hana: Of course! You look really nice in that color.

Sarah: Thank you so much. I'm looking forward to getting this hat soon!

Hana: Me, too! And, let's visit their website and get the coupon* to buy our hats at the cheaper price.

Sarah: Good idea! Let's do it now.

[注] chapeau à la carte*: シャポー・ア・ラ・カルト (帽子屋の名前) variety*: 種類

[C] 次の文章を読んで、あとの各問に答えなさい。

My name is John Smith. I will tell you my story about the New York *blackout. I was traveling in America and I was in New York on August 14th 2003. At about four o'clock in the evening I was in the *subway station. And at that time the light *went off. (1) I thought something bad happened. A lot of people and I pushed each other and went up to the street. We found all lights were off. All the cars stopped and couldn't move because (2) . A lot of people were coming from the buildings and from the subway station. They were walking among the cars and trying to go back home. This was called the New York blackout.

I was staying at a hotel when I was in New York. I decided to walk to the hotel quickly and stay there until the next morning, because the city looked really dangerous. I got there and walked up to my room without any lights. It was summer in New York. I felt very hot when I was going up. When I got to my room, I found that I had no water or food. Of course I didn't want to go out because (3) . But I decided to go out again.

When I went out of the hotel, a lot of people were sitting on the street. They could not go back home, so (4) . I found a small shop soon and could buy some water, food, and candles. Then I ran back to my hotel. I was afraid of walking on the street that evening.

I got into my room again. I looked at the city through the window because I worried about *riots. Can you imagine what I saw there? People were standing in the streets to help the cars, so the cars could move without *traffic lights. And volunteers were giving candles to the people on the street, so they didn't have to be afraid of the dark night. People in New York were protecting their city and helping each other.

The next day I asked people in New York about the night. They told me some warm stories of the blackout. One of my friends, Peter said, "I talked with the people around my house for the first time under the beautiful stars." Another friend, Sally said, "My family enjoyed dinner with candle lights and talking without the TV."

This is the story about the New York blackout. I will remember the people in New York who were helping each other and the people who found something warm in the night of New York.

問4 次の①,②の質問の答えとして最も当てはまるものをア～エの中から選び、記号で答えなさい。

2017.2.10

Hello, how are you?

I'm writing to you because I want to talk to you.

I'm fifteen years old now. I live in Tokyo. I belong to the basketball club. I'm good at Japanese. I like English and History. My hobbies are listening to music, playing the guitar, traveling, reading, and watching movies. I have never been to foreign countries, but I want to go in the future. My future --- this is the reason I'm writing this letter to you.

I'm going to high school next year. In 2020, I will start university. Before that, I have to know myself. I'm interested in many things now. I must choose one or two things for my future. I haven't had a dream yet. I'm sad. I'm not happy because I can't do everything.

Why do I have to choose? (A) I want to stay in my fifteen-year-old's world. It is hard for me to find my dream. I asked my parents, my older sister, and my teachers. They didn't give me good advice. They said, "You can be anything you want." "You can understand yourself if you study a lot. That's why you should study." Yes, I know that. I really want to see you and ask about my future. But I can't, so I ask you this in my letter.

I know it is not a perfect world. I will have worries in my future. However, I decide to enjoy this moment. There is only one way to catch my dream; try hard and do everything with my heart. I want to support myself. If I try hard, I can be anything! I hope you feel strong when you read this letter in ten years.

To yourself in ten years

② What does Sayuri want to be in the future?

- ア Her dream is to visit America.
- イ To go to high school.
- ウ She hasn't decided.
- エ She wants to ask her friends.

③ Why is Sayuri sad?

- ア Because she knows that she can't do everything.
- イ Because her parents don't understand her.
- ウ Because she is interested in many things.
- エ Because she doesn't want to go to university.

④ When will Sayuri read this letter again?

- ア February 11, 2017.
- イ February 10, 2027.
- ウ January 11, 2017.
- エ January 10, 2027.

⑤ Why did Sayuri write this letter?

TO: Bill

SUBJECT: Hello from Niigata!

DATE: 2016/9/01 9:34

Hi Bill,

How are you doing? I'm fine. How was your trip to Japan? I still remember your singing. It was a very short stay, but you'll stay in my memory for a long time.

Summer vacation is over, and a *new semester has just begun. My vacation was basketball after basketball! We had a club camp in Hokkaido. Hokkaido is the largest *prefecture in Japan, an 18-hour ship trip from Niigata! We practiced hard from morning till night, and had many practice games with teams from all over Japan.

During the club camp, we went to Furano. There were many kinds of beautiful flowers. I'm sending some pictures of them in this file. We also enjoyed eating seafood. It was delicious!

Next month, we are going on a school trip to Kyoto. Our group is attending a tea party at a beautiful garden in Ohara. I'll buy ア yatsushashi, Kyoto's traditional cookies, for my younger teammates.

If you have time, try to write to me. I'm looking forward to your イ ().
See you soon!

Your Japanese friend,

Akiko
